

Dr Karin Kojima Biography

She is currently an assistant professor of Pediatrics at Jichi Medical University (JMU) in Japan. She completed her Pediatrics and Child neurology residency at JMU. Her research interest is gene and cell therapies for child neurological diseases. She is a member of clinical research group of the gene therapy for AADC deficiency. She received Japan Society of Gene and Cell Therapy Award for Outstanding Research in Gene Therapy(2017) and Journal of Gene Medicine JSGCT Young Investigator Award(2018).